This popular MBA course is now available to all 3rd & 4th year undergraduates to develop your leadership & communication skills. Practical exercises will help you prepare for internships and interviews, and our inspirational curriculum will help you discover your personal leadership values. All majors welcome.

“I think this is one of the best courses I’ve taken in my MBA so far because it helps you develop deeper bonds with your classmates ... builds confidence and presence, stresses the importance of story and values.”

- Spring 2016 student

In this course you will:

- Enhance your professional and leadership skills through authentic communication.
- Develop your leadership presence — the skill set that enables an individual to motivate, inspire and connect to his or her audience.
- Improve your individual presentation style and storytelling ability, including the use of voice, body, focus, spontaneity, and energy.
- Discover how to craft and deliver compelling PowerPoint presentations that make an impact.
