

3rd US - India Conference

Friday, 7th September, 2018

Venue : Spieker Forum, UC Berkeley, California, USA

AIMA is hosting its 3rd US-India Conference in partnership with UC Berkeley on September 7, 2018. The Conference would be addressed by key speakers from industry and thought leaders from both India and the US. The audience would comprise of corporate executives, members of key US- India trade and economic bodies, professionals, academicians and students.

The theme of the Conference this year is "A Transforming India: Tapping Growth Opportunities".

India is changing rapidly and decisively. Technology is proving a game changer and government and businesses are reimagining themselves to accelerate growth in the digital age and make India a $10 trillion economy soon. This offers an unprecedented opportunity to American companies to partner India in its transformation. Given the size of Indian economy, its high growth rate and the country's high calibre technology talent, the US companies can not only aim for a big piece of the Indian market but also develop technologies and products in the country. Already, the US companies' presence in India's new economy is growing but they have only scratched the surface. India is a multi-trillion dollar business opportunity that is not to be missed.
