

Evening & Weekend MBA Program
Academic Integrity Statement

“As a member of the UC Berkeley community, I act with honesty, integrity, and respect for others.” –
UC Berkeley Honor Code

When enrolling in the University, students assume an obligation to conduct themselves in a manner compatible with the University's function as an educational institution. Academic misconduct includes but not limited to cheating, fabrication, plagiarism, or facilitating academic dishonesty as outlined in Section 102.01 in the Berkeley Campus Code of Student Conduct and is grounds for disciplinary action. When UC Berkeley and/or Haas School of Business policies and standards are violated, the UC Berkeley Graduate Division with the recommendation of the Haas School of Business and EW MBA Program Office has final jurisdiction over administrative and academic decisions that terminate or otherwise restrict a graduate student's progress towards graduation.

Achievement and proficiency in subject matter include the student's realization that neither is to be achieved by cheating. It must be understood that any student who knowingly aids in plagiarism or other cheating, e.g., allowing another student to copy a paper or examination question, is as guilty as the cheating student.

I understand and agree to the policies and expectations indicated above and the policies and code of conduct established by UC Berkeley and the Haas School of Business.
