Understand the fundamentals of corporate sustainability

Deliver a sustainability consulting project for a corporate client

Learn how to work effectively on a project team

This course is an introduction to the field of corporate sustainability, or as it has been known, corporate social responsibility (CSR). This is an experiential learning course, which is built around the opportunity to work for an actual business client on a sustainability consulting assignment.

We will also learn about the field of corporate sustainability through a number of activities in which your active participation is of critical importance.

The goal of the course is to provide you with useful tools, skills, and knowledge that will help you in your academic and professional careers in sustainability.

View Course Syllabus

ATTENTION NON HAAS STUDENTS: The MBA Program does not use CalCentral to manage its course enrollments. You must instead use the Haas Online Registrar system. Go to http://mbarequest.haas.berkeley.edu and log in to submit your request.